Splendido's Possibilities IN ACTION

“Our relationships with our not-for-profit partners go year round. We do a lot in the community. But we receive so much more than we give.”

— Tom Rios, Experience Director, Splendo

As part of a unique and socially responsible organization, both the staff and the residents of Splendido are committed to enhancing the lives of the people in the Oro Valley and Tucson community through Splendido's Possibilities in Action Program.

Possibilities in Action undertakes a wide range of support and sponsorship initiatives annually — everything from food donation and clothing collection drives, to the American Heart Association Heart & Stroke Walk, to hosting a meet and greet with the Tucson Symphony Orchestra's musical director.

Splendido invests in the community through outreach, sponsorship, and volunteer efforts that make a difference every day of the year in the Greater Oro Valley and Tucson region.

Interfaith Community Services

“At Interfaith Community Services, we’ve been blessed in many ways to be involved with Splendido. From their financial support as a corporate partner, to participating in our events, Splendido and its residents always step forward to help us when we need it. They’ve brought in thousands of pounds of food for our food bank in the last few years, and they hold school supply drives for us to help families in our community. Their backpack collection drives help disadvantaged students go back to school with the supplies they need to succeed.”

Alzheimer's Association

“We have such a fabulous relationship with Splendido, through both financial support and volunteer support from the residents. This is particularly true of the Wine to Remember event, which helps us to raise money for local programs and services as well as to advance research. For the past two years, Splendido has been involved not only as a financial sponsor of the event, but also through volunteerism. Splendido employees are part of the planning committee, and have also been an instrumental part of the event itself.”

— Kelly Raach,
Southern Arizona Regional Director, Alzheimer's Association

Southern Arizona Arts & Cultural Alliance (SAACA)

“Splendido is one of the most unique places here in southern Arizona. I can say that because SAACA partners with over 30 retirement communities, and none has the impact that Splendido does. Splendido not only has one of the most beautiful spaces here in southern Arizona, but also the people who choose to live here are people who are looking for a truly creative approach to the second phase of their lives. It’s a spectacular partnership.”

— Kate Marquez
Executive Director, Southern Arizona Arts & Cultural Alliance

Splendido was recognized with the Best Chocolate Dessert and Best Overall Presentation in the Sweet Charity competition hosted by the Southern Arizona Arts & Cultural Alliance, as well as the 2013/2014 and 2015/2016 Outstanding Arts Leader Award.

“Tohono Chul’s partnership with Splendido is a natural. They do so much for us, from sponsoring our signature events, like Holiday Nights or our Bloom Night, to doing things for people who are at the heart of our mission, like our staff and our volunteers.”

“Splendido has shown itself to be a place that cares about people and that cares about the community. It’s no wonder that so many of our volunteers have become residents of Splendido.”

— Christine Conte, PhD
Executive Director, Tohono Chul Park

Mayor of Oro Valley, Arizona

“Splendido goes above and beyond for their residents, and they have the same care and compassion for the community. They’re incredible partners that make a big difference. They’ve been generous sponsors of the Oro Valley State of the Town Address, and they sponsor the Greater Oro Valley Chamber of Commerce annual meeting. With the work they’ve done with Interfaith Community Services and the Alzheimer’s Association, they’re there for people in the community who really need the help.”
